

The Center for Contemporary Arts presents

RED MOLE

LOST CHANTS FOR THE LIVING

Thursday - Sunday at 8 PM
May 8-11, 15-18 & 22-25

Center for Contemporary Arts

291 East Barcelona, ½ block west of Old Pecos Trail in Santa Fe. 982-1338

Tickets $7 available in advance at CCA

Red Mole's work is surprising, quick, affectionate, beautiful to look at, extremely funny, never condescending, and through-and-through political.

—Erika Munk, The Village Voice

beautifully sophisticated. . . intellectually astute. . . tugging at our intellectual, reality-based moorings, and gradually pulling us into the darkest dreamworld waters. It's as if Red Mole has been prepping us to accept the improbable as commonplace. . . ferociously funny.

Jan Hoffman, The Village Voice

"We must have art in order not to die of the truth."

— Nietzsche